

Hot Club Sandwich

Whimsical songs about rugby, coffee, iPods, weddings and household appliances delivered in a manic style that suggests Django Reinhardt may have once met Lonnie Donnegan.

Andrew London - guitar

Bob Heinz - guitar

Terry Crayford - bass

Date:

WED 6 JAN, 8-11pm

Venue: Wharfside Restaurant & Bar

Price: Free admission

Dinner bookings advisable
.....

Date:

FRI 8 JAN, 9pm-12am

Venue: The Vic Mac's
Brew Bar

Price: Free admission

Dinner bookings advisable

The Wellington-based trio, consisting of guitarists Andrew London and Bob Heinz, and bass player Terry Crayford, describes itself as a combination of jazz, blues, country and old time English music hall with influences ranging from Nat King Cole to Gilbert & Sullivan, Django Reinhardt to Lonnie Donnegan.

Hot Club Sandwich have been entertaining audiences all over Australasia and have released six CDs and a live DVD. From the cafes and bars of their home town, Wellington, to Jazz and Arts festivals all over NZ, Sydney and Norfolk Island, their unique combination of swinging "Hot Club" rhythm, scorching improvised solos, tight three-part vocal harmonies and quirky lyrics gets feet tapping and funny-bones snapping.

www.hotclubsandwich.co.nz