Sounds of a cuica (Brazilian friction drum) and hot percussive samba rhythms will saturate all parts of the city. There'll be feet tapping, hips swaying and spectators enticed by the exotic sounding Brazilian-spiced melodies and rhythms. Formed in 1998, Zamba Flam's interpretation of Latin American music has thrilled audiences in festivals all around New Zealand.

Bosso Novas, Choros, and Sambas along with other folkloric styles will bring the sophisticated harmonies, innovative and elegant melodies, and the passion of Brazilian music to the Woollaston Nelson Jazz & Blues Festival. Zamba Flam musicians are also composers and will play some of their original compositions. Their first CD has been launched to critical acclaim. Brazil and New Zealand have never been closer.
