Playing the music of Eric Clapton has become a lifelong love affair for Rob and Martin Winch. Both guitarists were heavily influenced in their early years by the searing sound and emotional playing of the guitarist who inspired the graffiti "Clapton is God".

Eric Clapton is often viewed by critics and fans alike as the greatest guitarist of all time, and The Winch Brothers make it their goal to pay homage to this in their tribute show which features all of his best known songs. Both Martin and Rob handle the guitar chores while Rob takes the microphone for the vocals.

They are joined onstage by New Zealand's finest rhythm section, all veterans of studio and stage.
